Learning Skills Department Policy Statement

The overall policy of the Learning Skills Department is to fully integrate all pupils into the academic, sporting, artistic and social aspects of college life by ensuring that any learning difficulties are recognised and supported. We foster self-esteem and build on each individual's strengths.

Definition of special educational needs (SEN)

"A pupil has SEN where their learning difficulty or disability calls for special educational provision, namely provision different from or additional to that normally available to pupils of the same age." Paragraph 6.14; SEND Code of Practice \(2015\)

Broad areas of need:-

- Communication and interaction
- Cognition and learning
- Social emotional and mental health difficulties
- Sensory and/or physical needs

The SEN Register

Many students have been identified before attending Pangbourne with a specific learning difficulty and may qualify for access arrangements in exams. However, unless the student needs provision 'different from or additional to that normally available to pupils of the same age' (SEN SUPPORT) they will not be recorded on our SEN register but put on our monitoring register. All details will be recorded for all students via our ILP system for teachers to read

Pupil ILPs –

All new pupils categorised as 'SEN Support' or on our monitoring list will have an ILP. This ILP will give a brief overview for teachers of the pupils' difficulties and strategies to help them. In addition each specialist teacher for those pupils attending individual lessons or group lessons will identify targets that students are working on.

Some pupils enter the college without previous identification of learning difficulties. Concerns about individual pupils not already recognised as having learning difficulties is the responsibility of all staff. Concerns should first be passed to the pupil's tutor or SENCo, who must liaise with each other. The SENCo will contact the parents to discuss the identification of learning difficulties and will also arrange an assessment of the student if, after discussions, all are in agreement to do so.

PANGBOURNE

Pupils with Education Health and Care plans (EHC)

The college does, from time to time, admit a small number of pupils with an EHC. Annual reviews take place in accordance with the statutory guidance.

Feedback on progress

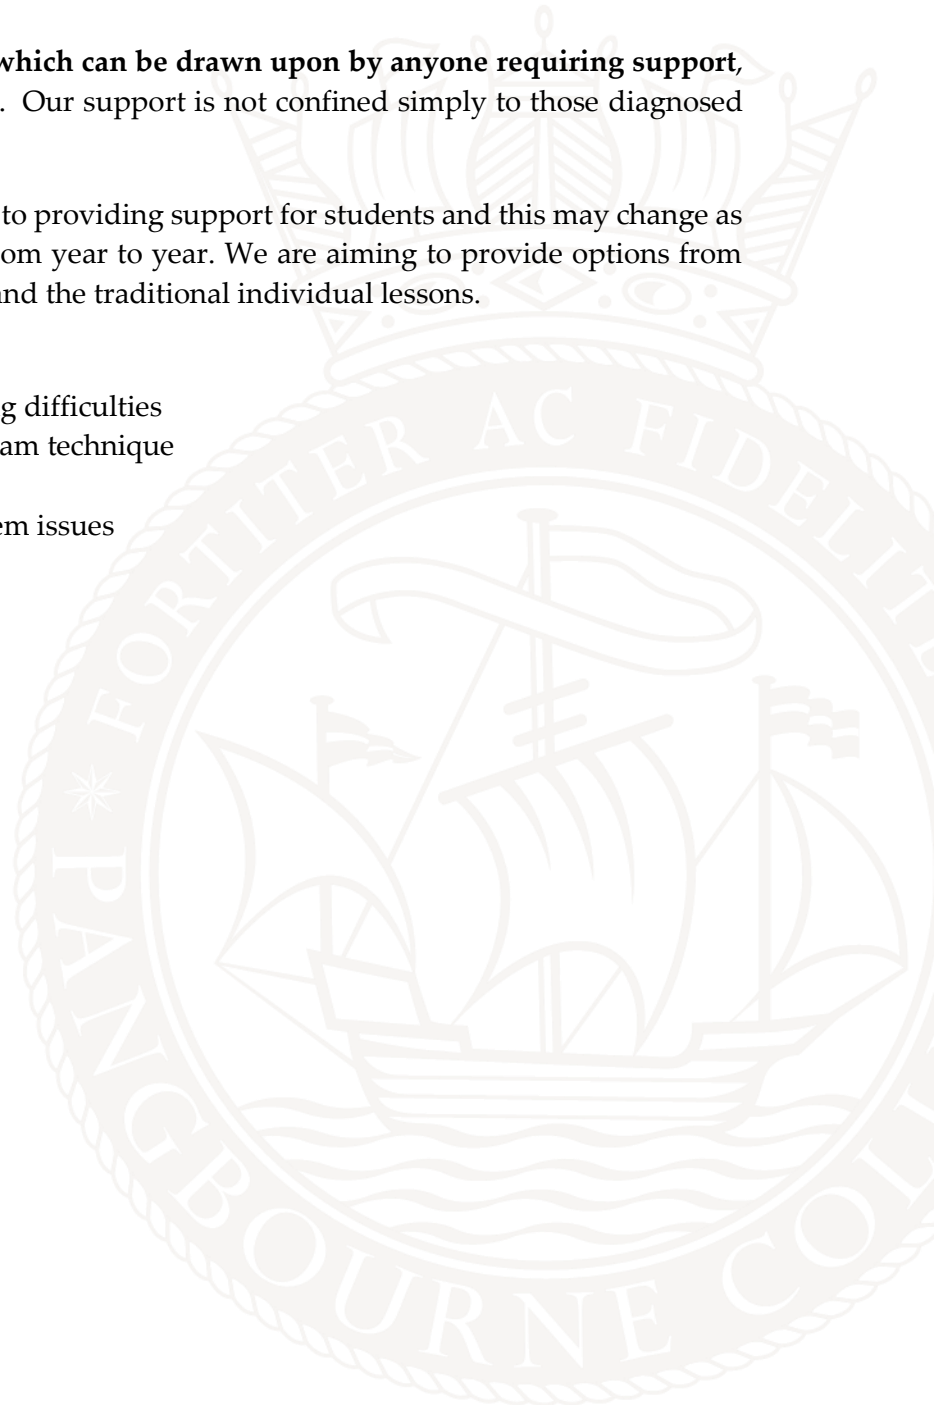

Termly reports are written for all pupils who are receiving regular LS sessions. We are always available for consultation at parents evening or by appointment. Parents are welcome to contact the LS teachers at any time throughout the year by telephone or email.

Learning Skills (LS) is a resource which can be drawn upon by anyone requiring support, long term, short term or occasional. Our support is not confined simply to those diagnosed with a specific learning need.

A fluid approach has been adopted to providing support for students and this may change as the needs of the students change from year to year. We are aiming to provide options from drop in workshops, group lessons and the traditional individual lessons.

We can help with:

- Spelling, reading and writing difficulties
- Study skills, revision and exam technique
- Organisational difficulties
- Concentration and self-esteem issues
- Essay writing
- Handwriting
- Learning to learn
- Maths

Accessibility

Welcoming and preparing for disabled pupils

Where it is practicable to make reasonable adjustments to enable prospective pupils to take up a place at the College and to satisfy the current admissions criteria, the College is committed to providing those reasonable adjustments, as outlined in the Equality Act 2010.

In order to fully meet the needs of disabled pupils, the College requires complete disclosure of information prior to entry. The College will ask all applicants for admission to the College to say whether they have received any previous learning support, have had an educational psychologist's report or have any disability or other condition of which the College should be aware.

In assessing the pupil or prospective pupil, the College may need to take advice and request assessments as appropriate. The College will be sensitive to any issues of confidentiality at all stages.

Parents and Guardians, together with either prospective or current pupils will be invited to share their needs with the College, usually in the first instance with the HoM. From this consultation any assessments of adjustments that may be required such as ramps, or ground floor classrooms will be included in planning. This will be the case with short term in capacity such as broken legs. Pupils with accessibility issues are regularly asked for their views on how the College can continue to make reasonable adjustments. These views are then passed on to either AMT for timetabling/curriculum issues or to the Head of Boarding for Division issues and ultimately to the Bursar for longer term adjustments.

Whole College approach to SEN

Please see Literacy across the Curriculum Whole College Policy (available on the College VLE)..

All teachers are teachers of pupils with special educational needs and therefore teaching these pupils is a whole college responsibility and requires a whole college approach. It follows that good communication is essential between the Learning Skills Department, teaching staff and housemasters/mistresses. There is close liaison to ensure that pupil's needs are addressed and met sympathetically.

- All subject staff are expected to be aware of a pupil's specific needs and be prepared to differentiate work appropriately with particular regard to the advice available on student's ILPs or on the college database, based on either an educational psychologist's or other specialist reports.
- Subject teachers should aim to work closely with the LS department in order for SEN pupils to reach their potential and most positive learning outcomes. Teachers should be aware of the learners current ILP which can be found on the college database.

PANGBOURNE

- Each subject department should aim to invite a member of the LS department to meetings which are dedicated to discussing pupils' additional needs in that subject. Concerns may be raised and LS teachers can offer strategies for subject teachers to use within their lessons.
- Subject teachers should contact the LS department as soon as they have a concern about a pupil, especially if the pupil is not on the SEN register.
- Each Head of Department should make available to the Learning Skills department the scheme of work for each year group and provide them with a copy of relevant text books.
